

men joined in the hurrahs with most extravagant demonstrations of glee, waving flags as a woodman swings his axe, bending themselves almost double with delight, sending shouts of laughter echoing through the gloom, and sometimes exclaiming, "Hurrah for Lincoln!"

Y. DAY, July 26.—Our scouting parties to-day captured two or three thousand dollars worth of "plunder," left behind by Wise's army, including fifty fine coats, several hundred knapsacks, some chests full of cartridges, camp kettles, sugar, medicine chests, twenty barrels of whisky, guns, swords, Secession flags, and the whole official correspondence and many of the members of the Rebel command, from April up to the 24th inst. The master-rolls show a very large number of desertions—in some cases 26 out of companies of 80 are reported "absent without leave." The official reports also develop that many of the troops are armed with old flint-lock muskets; and the correspondence, that the Rebels meet with an exceedingly good reception from the people of the Kanawha Valley.

One of the papers in a letter from Gov. Letcher, and Brig. Gen. Col. John McClelland of the Virginia M. V. Institute to take command in the Kanawha Valley. Another is a report from a captain to the general commanding, that two Union men have secreted three thousand pounds of bacon and flour for the expected Northern troops, and a request that he may be allowed to capture it to-day, as "to-morrow it may be too late." It further adds that two columns of Northern troops are moving toward them in complete cooperation with each other. A third, sent in with a message, charges him with being in communication with the enemy, adding in proof that he had just come from Ohio when captured, and that several copies of The Cincinnati Commercial were found in his possession.

The command left Charleston at 2 this afternoon, and reached 13 miles up the river, camping at 9 o'clock to-night. We have nearly reached the head of navigation on the Kanawha, and must soon leave the fleet and go on land. Wise's army is quite close enough for us; it is now about twenty-four hours ahead, retreating by forced marches.

SATURDAY, July 27.—Our advance scouts came in sight of 16 Rebel cavalry early this morning, and fired upon them; but they retreated too rapidly to be overtaken. One of their guns was captured. Everywhere we hear complaints that the Rebels have robbed stores, and taken supplies of all kinds without paying for them. Our army, after an irregular, disorderly march of five miles, camped for the night. The valley of the Kanawha here is seldom more than a mile in width, and is shut in by rugged hills. I write you in a Secession tent, while one of the columns of the command is sitting upon the porch, assuring the Rebels that he is the soundest of Pro-Slavery men, that he belongs to a run-away "nigger" which has somehow fallen into his hands, into the first jail he reaches, and that Slavey is the normal condition of the negro. All the Rebels captured thus far (some of them very active and bitter) have been treated with extreme leniency. How long is this to continue a race-war?

GOV. WISE COME LATELY SURROUNDED.
CLEVELAND, Thursday, Aug. 1, 1861.
Lieut. Burgess of the 7th Regiment, and The Cleveland Plaindealer's correspondent, writing from Balltown, Va., under date of July 28, says that Gen. Tyler reached Balltown that day, and found that the Rebels had fled. Gen. Tyler advanced to Flatwoods, but the Rebels still fled, hearing that Gen. Cox had driven Gov. Wise from Charlottesville. Gen. Tyler considered Gov. Wise as completely surrounded.

FROM FORTRESS MONROE.
FORTRESS MONROE, Wednesday, July 27, 1861.
Via Baltimore, Thursday, Aug. 1, 1861.
Lieut. Ashley left the Fortress yesterday on an expedition, with 300 men and several pieces of artillery, to board the propellers Cadwalader, Franny, and Adriatic. Their destination was up the bay. They have not yet been heard from.

Mr. La Mountain made a balloon ascension this morning. He attained an elevation of 1,000 feet, and was able to observe a circuit of thirty miles in diameter, making some useful observations, as to the position of the enemy.

No trace of the Confederates are seen in the vicinity of Hampton, which is a perfect picture of a deserted village.

John Tyler's house is occupied by a large number of contrabands.

FROM CAIRO.
CAIRO, Thursday, Aug. 1, 1861.
Scouts just in report that Thompson, with 500 Rebels, encamped thirty miles south of Cairo. There are 3,000 between Charleston and New-Madrid, and 7,000 at the latter place.

SOUTHERN ITEMS.
LOUISVILLE, Thursday, Aug. 1, 1861.
A dispatch from Nashville to The Courier says that Gen. McClelland has defeated Col. Sigel in Southern Missouri, killing 9,000 and losing 200. The report is believed at The Courier office.

THE REBELS' ENQUIRER of the 29th says that a Maryland regiment had been captured by the Confederates.

N. K. Stevenson, in a card to The Nashville Union this morning, says Judge Catron will not undertake to aid the Federal Court at Nashville again, no matter what may occur.

DEPARTURE OF THE ONONDAGA COUNTY CAVALRY.
SYRACUSE, Thursday, Aug. 1, 1861.
The Onondaga County Cavalry, Capt. Moschell, departed for Washington at 10:30 to-night, to join Col. Van Allen's Cavalry Regiment. The company is 80 strong, and is composed of the very best material. A young bride, Mrs. Cook, accompanies them as a daughter of the regiment.

FROM POSTON.
BOSTON, Thursday, August 1, 1861.
Ormand F. Nims has been appointed captain in Col. McCall's Light Artillery, which was mustered into service yesterday. Capt. Nims formerly commanded Cook's Battery, and has acted as drill officer of the corps which has been chosen to command.

THE PRIZE BRIG HERALD.
PHILADELPHIA, Thursday, Aug. 1, 1861.
The prize brig Herald, with a cargo of naval stores and tobacco, from Beaufort, S. C., bound to Liverpool, and which was captured by the frigate St. Lawrence on the 16th of July, has arrived here.

MAINE TROOPS HOMEWARD BOUND.
PHILADELPHIA, Thursday, Aug. 1, 1861.
The 1st Maine Regiment passed through here at 5 o'clock this morning, en route for home.

OUR WOUNDED AT MANASSAS.
PHILADELPHIA, Thursday, Aug. 1, 1861.
A letter has been received here from a young Philadelphian, Harry Beckwith, of the New-York 71st, who was wounded and captured in the late battle, and who was taken to a hospital at Sudley Hospital, and that he is treated kindly.

FROM WASHINGTON

SUSPICIOUS MOVEMENTS ON THE RIVER.

FLATBOATS GATHERED AT ACQUA.

Large Force of Rebels at Hand.

THE PAWNEE ON THE LOOKOUT.

LATER FROM KANAWHA VALLEY.

GOV. WISE STILL RUNNING.

OUR TROOPS IN PURSUIT.

Special Dispatch to The N. Y. Tribune.

WASHINGTON, Thursday, Aug. 1, 1861.

EXPERIMENT TO ACQUA CREEK.

Capt. Rowan, of the Pawnee, has received the following letter:

ALEXANDRIA, Monday, July 29, 1861.

"Sir: I learned last evening that a person had arrived here from Aquia Creek, who states the Confederates have taken all the upper works of the steamer Dauphin, and have got on board of her, and that all the flat boats on the Rappahannock have been brought over to the Potomac, the party saying they had a great many in the Creek. I suppose their object is to intercept some of the propellers on their way up the river, with stores, &c."

Upon the receipt of this the Department ordered the Pawnee to Aquia Creek, agreeing with Commander Craven, who inclosed the letter, that "the collection of so many flat-boats must be for some other object than that of intercepting passing steamers."

THE RETREAT OF GOV. WISE.

The following information has reached headquarters from the Department of Western Virginia: Gen. Cox, chasing Gov. Wise from Charleston to the Point, where the New and Gauley Rivers form the great Kanawha, reached Gauley Bridge on the 29th of July. Wise fled without fighting, destroying the bridge, to prevent pursuit.

We have captured, says the dispatch, 1,000 muskets and several kegs of cannon powder. Many inhabitants of that section who have hitherto been strong Secessionists denounce Wise for wanton destruction of property, and abandon him and his cause. His western troops are rapidly disbanding. The Valley of the Kanawha is now free from Rebel forces.

LARGE ORDERS FOR RIFLED CANNON.

The Government has made arrangements at four manufacturing to have sixty rifled cannon turned out a week. With one firm a contract for three hundred has been made. Gen. McClelland relies upon artillery as the principal arm of the service.

PRINCE NAPOLEON.

Prince Napoleon, while in Washington, will be the guest of the French Minister, whose wife went to New-York to-day to pay her respects to the Princess Clotilde.

The Princess will not accompany her husband to Washington, where he will probably arrive to-morrow or next day.

MRS. GENERAL GAINES AND THE UNIONS.

Mrs. General Gaines has returned from New-Orleans, a strong Union woman. She considers the Southern Confederacy already a failure, and says that such is the general feeling in New-Orleans.

PERSONAL.

Gov. Washburne of Maine is in town.

THE WRONG NAME.

It was Egbert L. Viele whom the New-York delegation recommended for Brigadier-General, and not J. J. Viele as printed.

EXAMINATION OF NEW OFFICERS FOR THE NAVY.

An Examining Board of accomplished shipmasters will be appointed in New-York and Boston to examine all candidates for office on board the new vessels of the blockading fleet. It is rumored that the New-York Board will be composed of Ezra Nye, R. L. Taylor and George W. Blunt.

COL. MILES'S DEFENSE.

Col. Miles publishes a card defending himself against the charges made in Col. Richardson's official report—the material portion of which is as follows:

"No one has ever before been hunted with more audacious, malicious slanders and falsehoods, since the battle of Bull Run, than myself. My name, I am told, has been in the streets of Washington, and because more and more derogatory to my character. It was stated that I had deserted to the enemy; that I was a traitor, being from Maryland, and a sympathizer with rebels; that I gave the order to retreat; that I was in arrest; and now, by Col. Richardson's report, I am charged with having committed a crime, and that he has committed leaving to future days the removal he must feel of the irreparable injury he has inflicted on an old brother officer. The order for retreat from Blackburn's Ford, as communicated by my staff officer, emanated from Gen. McDowell, who directed two of my brigades to march on the Warrenton Road as far as the bridge on Cub Creek. I sent my Adjutant-General, Capt. Vincent, to bring up Davies's and Richardson's Brigades, while I gave the order for Blackburn's Brigade at Centerville to proceed down the Warrenton Road. I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well chosen, and I turned my attention to the placing of Davies's brigade and the batteries. A part of the regiment I accompanied these troops part of the way, endeavoring to collect and hold the routed soldiers. I returned to Centerville Heights as Col. Richardson with his brigade was coming into line of battle, facing Blackburn's force. His position was well